Who are they talking about?

He is always taking pictures of himself and posting them on Instagram. I often see him looking at himself in the mirror, too! I guess one must like oneself in order to have so many followers.

Who is talking?

In my next apartment, I am going to live by myself. I don't want anybody telling me what to do. If something breaks, I'll repair it myself. I'll cook for myself every day, too.

Who is he talking to?

Do you write these jokes yourself? It's great that you can laugh at yourself. Some people only make fun of other people. I think that's mean.

Who are they talking about?

I wanted to go to a museum today with her, but she wants to stay at home by herself. I'm a little worried because she spends a lot of time by herself lately.

Who is talking?

Well, I definitely don't want to stay home by myself. There is a ballet performance tonight and I know myself... I won't go alone. Let's go together!

Who are they talking about?

Did they really plan this party themselves? He's usually too busy talking about himself and she never leaves the house! Plus, they are total opposites!

Who are they talking to?

If you two want to see the movie by yourselves, let us know. We can occupy ourselves just fine! Maybe we will go play pool. By the way, you two look very cute together :)
